Volunteer Courses

Becoming a CASA volunteer is just the start of your journey! Ongoing learning is key to deepening your understanding and strengthening your advocacy for children and youth.

In-service training helps you stay informed about emerging issues, available resources, and best practices. CASA volunteers are required to complete 12 hours of in-service training each year.

To support your learning, California CASA offers a wide array of on-demand trainings on diverse topics and in various formats through this learning platform.

You can take these courses at your own pace, whenever it's convenient for you.

If you have suggestions for topics or need support, please reach out to your CASA Academy User Group Manager or your case supervisor.
